Robert P. Joy to Present at the Cambridge Forum on Employment and Labor Law

Morgan, Brown & Joy Partner Robert P. Joy will present at the Cambridge Forum on Employment and Labor Law, February 27 – 28, 2019 in New Orleans, LA. His presentation will focus on the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) under the President Trump administration.

Joy is a partner and member of the firm's management committee. Since he began practicing in 1975, Joy has handled employment cases before state and federal courts at every level on a wide range of issues. He is an active member of the Labor & Employment Law Section of the American Bar Association and the Massachusetts Bar Association, including Chair of the Private Sector Labor Law and the Equal Employment Opportunity Law Committees. Joy has been named one of America's Leading Business Lawyers by Chambers USA, top 100 "Super Lawyers" by Boston Magazine and one of the nation's most respected lawyers by The Best Lawyers in America.

The Cambridge Forum is an annual meeting of up to 48 leading employment and labor law lawyers from across the United States. Participants are personally selected by the Steering Committee based on their experience and specialization in these matters. The Cambridge Forum does not feature traditional presentations and revolves around the active participation of all those in attendance. The goal is to foster active discussion and debate on the timely topics selected by the Steering Committee.
